COOLIDGE IS OPPOSED TO WAR DEBTS DISCUSSION

Cannot Consider Any New Proposals, He Says

LONDON PARLEY

Saturday Probably To Mark End Of Session

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 13.—It is reported that the French and German Finance Ministers last night definitely arranged to conclude a commercial treaty. French and German experts have been summoned to London to draft their proposals.

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 12.—Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, presiding at a meeting of the Allied and American Delegations to the Inter-Allied Conference, today stated that the work entrusted to the various committees had been finished except for one or two points. Saturday is now mentioned as the probable date of the conclusion of the business of the Conference.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

London, August 12.—Negotiations are being actively carried on. Monday afternoon was taken up by interviews between the various heads of the delegations. Dr. Stresemann examined with M. Clementel the question of future Franco-German commercial relations, M. Herriot had conversations with Mr. MacDonald and Dr. Stresemann, but details of these are not available.

The conference committees were in session for two hours on Tuesday examining all questions in suspense. The work was continued in the afternoon.

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, August 12.—President Coolidge, while encouraged by the progress of the Inter-Allied Conference, regrets that the question of the Allies' war debts is involved in reparations. He adheres to the view that he is powerless to consider any new proposals as regards national debts

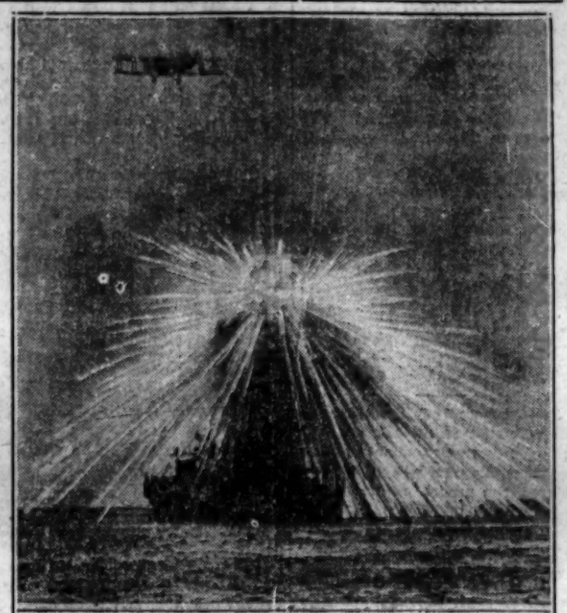
Secret Tests With Phosphorous Bombs



PHOSPHORUS BOMB

This picture, made months ago, has been kept as a closely guarded secret by the U. S. Army Air Service, and has just been released for publication. When the army airmen bombed old ships that were scrapped under the disarmament treaty they used a new and deadly form of bomb—a 1,000 pound missile loaded with phosphorous, with its devastating effects. Nothing could be more illuminating as a text on the value of the airplane during war than this picture, showing a direct hit on the fire control platform of the old battleship. No one could have lived aboard the vessel.

The Model Court At Shanghai

(The following plan for the reorganisation of the Chinese courts at Shanghai in connection with the movement for rendition of the Mixed Court has been drafted by a foreign attorney who, for the past ten years, has been a member of the Mixed Court Bar).

THE MODEL COURT AT S'HAI

Special Courts will be established for Shanghai, to be known as:
(a) Shanghai District Court.
(b) Shanghai Police Court.
(c) Shanghai High Court.
(d) Shanghai Court of Cassation.

(A) S'HAI DISTRICT COURT

1. Jurisdiction. This Court shall have jurisdiction in all civil cases where the sum or value of the property involved does not exceed One Thousand Dollars, and both parties to the suit are Chinese citizens, provided that the defendant resides or has a place of business within the Foreign Settlements of Shanghai, or, that the cause of action arose within the Foreign Settlements, or, that the property in dispute is situated therein.

2. Appeals. Appeals shall lie from all final judgments or decrees of said Court to the Shanghai High Court and thence to the Shanghai Court of Cassation.

3. Judges. The Judge of this Court shall be a Chinese citizen appointed by the Chinese Government in accordance with the "Law of the Organisation of the Judiciary" and shall possess the same qualifications as are therein provided for District Court Judges.

4. Procedure. Rules of Procedure for this Court shall be made by the Judges of the Shanghai Court of Cassation, having regard to the rules of procedure now enacted in the Chinese Civil Code.

(B) SHANGHAI POLICE COURT

1. Jurisdiction. This Court shall have jurisdiction in all criminal cases arising within the Foreign Settlements where the fine to be imposed shall not exceed Five Hundred Dollars and-or where a sentence of imprisonment shall not exceed the term of one year. This Court shall also act as Coroner at inquests.

2. Appeals. Appeals shall lie from all final judgments or sentences of said Court to the Shanghai High Court and thence to the Shanghai Court of Cassation.

3. Magistrates. The Court shall be composed of a Chinese Magistrate and a Foreign Assessor (the latter to be appointed in the way and manner as now constituted). The Chinese Magistrate to be appointed by the Chinese Government in accordance with the "law of the Organisation of the Judiciary" and shall possess the same qualifications as are therein provided for District Court Judges.

4. Procedure. Rules of Procedure for this Court shall be made

MANILA CARNIVAL CHIEF TO ADDRESS ROTARIANS TODAY

Five New Members Are To Be Initiated At Noon Session At Astor

Today's meeting of the Shanghai Rotary Club which will be held at the Astor at 12:30 o'clock will be for members only. Rotarian Arsenio N. Luz of Manila will give a short address on "The Philippine Carnival," of which he is director-general. Mr. Luz is also editor of a live newspaper in Manila and serves as director of a number of business enterprises in the Philippines.

Five new members, Dr. Thomas B. Dunn, Dr. H. L. Cummings, Mr. F. B. Gange, Mr. Albert Eugene Heyes and Mr. Douglas T. Murray, will be initiated at this meeting.

Dr. Schurman To Arrive Tonight

The following announcement was made yesterday by Mr. E. S. Cunningham, U. S. consul-general at Shanghai:

The Honorable Jacob Gould Schurman, American Minister at Peking, is proceeding on leave of absence and expects to reach Shanghai on Thursday night's train. It is expected that he will not remain here longer than thirty-six hours.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Aug. 13.—Dr. Schurman, the American Minister, left for Shanghai this morning. He will leave Shanghai on August 16 on board the President Taft and will return to Peking in March. Meanwhile Mr. Bell is Charge d'Affaires.

HOLD AIR RACE ROUND BRITAIN FOR KING'S CUP

Mr. Cobham Wins In Siddeley-Puma Plane; Four Are Forced Out

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 12.—Ten famous flyers competed in the 950-mile flight round Britain for the King's Cup, starting at Martlesham, Suffolk, passing Edinburgh, Dumbarton and Falmouth and finishing at Lee-on-Solent.

Mr. Cobham, who was second last year, piloting a Siddeley-Puma won with an average speed of 105½ miles per hour. Mr. Butler on a de Havilland was second and Mr. MacMillan of world-flight fame, piloting a Fairey seaplane, was third.

Air Force Lieutenant Jones, on a Siddeley-Siskin, accopplished the flight in the best time of 7 hours 20 min. 52 sec.

Four competitors retired owing to accidents, including Mr. Courtney, last year's winner, who, flying a Siddeley-Siskin, crashed his under-carriage at Newcastle. Mr. Baird, flying a seaplane with two passengers, had a thrilling escape. He lost his propeller in mid-air but managed to descend safely at Durham. Mr. Barnard collided with a hayrick and broke his propeller at the Ayr racecourse.

Lieutenant Jones was scratch. Mr. Cobham received 3 hours 4 min. 12 sec., Mr. Butler received 2 hours 6 min. and Mr. MacMillan 2 hours 29 min. 12 sec.

Colonel the Master of Sempill's late arrival at Lee-on-Solent caused some anxiety. His handicap was 3 hours 32 min. and his flying time 13 hours 0 min. 43 sec.

His machine was a super-marine Napier Seagull amphibian.

DAIL EIREANN IS CALLED TO ACT ON TREATY

Opposition To Adjournment As Proposed By Head Of Free State

(Reuter's Service)

Dublin, August 12.—In the Dail Eireann today, President Cosgrave introduced a bill similar to the British Bill for the purpose of supplementing the Anglo-Irish Treaty. He asked the Dail Eireann to adjourn till October 21 when the remaining stages would be taken.

Mr. Johnson, the Leader of the Labor Party, asked the Dail Eireann not to agree to the first reading of the bill.

Mr. Cosgrave, proposing the adjournment of the debate until October 1 (? 21), said that the House would be summoned earlier if necessary.

The Nationalist, Mr. Sean Milroy, objected to executive measures to get the Treaty enforced. He urged that with the Bill before the British House of Commons they had to consider the possibility that a general election in Ireland might again become the shuttlecock of British politicians.

The Dail decided to sit till the finish of the debate.

The President, replying to Mr. McGrath, former Minister of Commerce, said that the Government did not intend to proceed with the Bill until it had passed the British House of Commons.

The bill then passed its first reading by 69 votes to 10.

War Guarantee Given By Japan In New U. S. Loan

(Reuter's Service)

New York, August 12.—The Japanese loan is described in an announcement as being payable in war time as well as in time of peace, irrespective of the nationality of the holder, and without any declaration regarding citizenship.

The New York World says that the phrasing of the contract, which is probably unique in American finance, has apparently been brought about by the Japanese Exclusion Act and the known fears of America. The wording is designed to appease these fears and induce investors to acquire bonds which they might otherwise leave alone.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, August 13.—A New York despatch of yesterday's date reports that the bonds of the Nippon Kogyo Bank were oversubscribed immediately after they were issued and that the National City Bank has announced that subscriptions had been closed.

COMMITTEE WILL MAKE INQUIRY ON ARMS TRAFFIC

Council Acts With View To Halting Smuggling

OUTLINE PLANS

Membership Includes Shipping Men And Customs

Consideration of means to check the smuggling of firearms at Shanghai will be taken up by a committee, including members of the Shanghai Municipal Council, representatives of shipping companies and the Consular Body, and the Commissioner of Customs, according to today's issue of the Municipal Gazette.

The proposal for such an inquiry was made by Mr .Stirling Fessenden, chairman of the Council, at a meeting of that body on July 30, when he related that he had had informal discussions with representatives of shipping companies and the Consular Body and the Commissioner of Customs anent the matter, and that as a result of those discussions it had been agreed that a committee should be appointed to go into the whole question.

A suggestion received by Mr. Fessenden from the Acting Commissioner of Police as to the constitution of such a committee proposed that it consist of a member of the Council, a member of the Watch Committee, a member of the Consular Body, the Commissioner of Customs, two members to represent shipping companies, and a representative appointed by the French Consul.

In the discussion which followed at the Council meeting, the suggestion made by a member that Mr. J. Harold Dollar and a representative of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha be asked to represent the shipping companies was approved. It was also considered that a Chinese should be asked to serve on the committee.

Mr. Fessenden consented to act as chairman of the committee. It was considered desirable that the committee be constituted with as little delay as possible.

SEIZE ARMS IN POLICE RAID ON BROADWAY CAFE

Seven Pistols Confiscated In Premises Operated By T. S. Lelli

Seven automatic pistols and 3209 rounds of ammunition were seized by the police yesterday morning in a raid conducted on the premises at 689 Broadway, known as the Genova Cafe.

T. S. Lelli, proprietor of the cafe, was taken into custody and turned over to the Italian authorities for trial in the Italian consular court.

Among the contraband arms seized were three .32 calibre and four .25 calibre Mauser pistols. 2,820 rounds of Mauser pistol ammunition, 248 rounds .32 calibre and 141 rounds of .25 calibre ammunition.

At the request of the police for time to make further inquiries, a remand until Friday was granted by Mr. Ramondino, sitting as judge in the Italian consular court, when the case was brought up later yesterday. Application for bail, made by defendant, was denied, and Lelli will be held in custody.

The Genova Cafe has been under surveillance by the police for some time past. On Tuesday, information was received that there were arms on the premises and application for a search warrant was promptly made to the Italian consular authorities. The raid yesterday morning was conducted by a squad from Wayside Police station headed by Sub-Inspector MacDermott.

Alarm In Tientsin As Flooded Streams Still Rise; Strengthen Dykes

Populace Fears Repetition Of Previous Flood Disaster If Weak Points In Embankment Should Give In; Fifty Hsiens Already Submerged

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Aug. 13.—The railway, telegraph and postal surcharges to aid the flood sufferers will operate from Sept. 1.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, August 12.—All the rivers meeting at Tientsin have risen since about one month ago and have already submerged over 50 hsiens to the northwest of Tientsin. The floods are now gradually approaching here.

In view of the great inundation that occurred in the 6th Year of the Republic of China, strong embankments have been constructed around this city, but following the rise of water in the South Canal, there have been created some dangerous spots on the northwest corner of this city.

As it is feared that the greater part of the city will be flooded if those weak points should give in, a company of engineers have begun to strengthen the embankments with might and main. However, water in the streams throughout the city has risen up to the beams of bridges and the popular mind is greatly agitated.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 10.—Representatives of the Peking Garrison, Peking Gendarmerie, Metropolitan Police and the Governor of the Metropolitan Area held a meeting yesterday at which it was resolved that all unoccupied temples in the four suburbs outside Peking City should be used as places of refuge for flood sufferers requiring temporary housing.

The Chihli Flood Relief Commission has appealed to the Ministry of Communications to give employment wherever possible to men rendered destitute through the recent floods the idea being that these men could be employed in railway construction work.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 10.—Mr. Liu Meng-kung, Governor of the Metropolitan Area, has sent Mr. Han Juai-hsiang with 5,000 catties of bread to be distributed to flood sufferers in Kuangtupo, South of Marco Polo bridge.

BRITAIN SENDS TROOPS TO END SUDAN OUTBREAK

Pro-Egyptian Demonstrations Staged; Cadets Are Disarmed

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 12.—Reuter's Agency learns that a British battalion is proceeding from Egypt to reinforce the British troops in the Sudan as a consequence of three outbreaks following pro-Egyptian demonstrations.

The cadets of the military school at Khartoum staged a demonstration on August 9 but were disarmed by a company of British troops. The Egyptian Railway Battalion at Atbara on August 10 [illegible] the British troops. A Squadron of Arab mounted rifles were sent to Atbara on August 11 and these surrounded the Railway Battalion at the market place and compelled them to return to barracks. They broke out again and drove back the infantry cordon with their rifle butts, and threw bricks and other missiles at the troops. The infantry opened fire, inflicting 19 casualties.

On August 10 at Port Sudan 20 to 30 men of the Egyptian Railway Battalion broke from their barracks armed with clubs, and, led by a suspended official, paraded the town. They finally returned to barracks. The townspeople remained calm.

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 12.—The disturbances in the Sudan are attributed by the London newspapers to Egyptian Nationalist propaganda on the eve of the impending negotiations between Zaglul Pasha, who is at present taking the waters at Vichy, and Mr. Ramsay MacDonald on the subject of the Sudan.

It may be recalled that Zaglul Pasha, speaking in the Chamber of Deputies in Cairo on June 28,

Overcrowded Trams Draw Council's Ire

Dissatisfaction with conditions on the tramcars was voiced at a meeting of the Shanghai Municipal Council held on July 30, the minutes of which appear in today's issue of the Municipal Gazette. Attention was particularly drawn to the overcrowded condition of the trams and the belief was expressed that the company is not making any effort to cope with the situation.

After discussion it was decided by the Council that "strong action should be taken to bring home to the company its obligations in the matter.

The following remedial measures are to be suggested to the company by the Council: Appointment of foreign supervisors to make frequent inspections of the cars, and the fixing of the maximum number of passengers to be carried, the maximum to be shown in the interior of each car.

It was decided that in the event of the company failing to satisfy the Council that it is taking all possible steps to meet the requirements laid down, proceedings against the company would be resumed.

TROUBLE BREWS

General Strike Now Threatened As Reprisal

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, August 12.—Large quantities of arms and ammunition, comprising 5,000 rifles with 1,200,000 rounds of ammunition, 4,500 Mausers, with 2,000,000 rounds of ammunition and 600 revolvers with 1,140,000 rounds of ammunition, were brought here on board the Norwegian Steamer Hav, which arrived here on August 8.

Their detention by Dr. Sun Yat-sen's troops has led to a situation which may result in a general strike throughout the City of Canton.

The arms and ammunition, it is reported, were imported under a contract made by the Cantonese Merchants Corps, but when they arrived here, a strict watch was placed over them by Dr. Sun Yat-sen's military commanders.

In view of the fact that the Canton Government is disposed to seize the arms, the leader of the Merchants' Corps last night convened an emergency meeting at the corps headquarters. As a result of this meeting, the vice commander and leaders of the

STREET CAR SMASHES INTO HEAVY CART

Passengers Thrown To Floor And Two Hurt In Crash on Chekiang Road

A collision between a north-bound street-car and a heavily-loaded truck on North Chekiang Road near Tsepoo Road yesterday afternoon about 3.30 badly damaged the car and threw it off the track, injured several passengers riding inside, and held up traffic for some time.

The car, a No. 5 tram with a trailer, was approaching Tsepoo Road when the accident occurred. There is a stretch of roadway here where there is barely room for one wide-wheeled vehicle between a street-car and the curb, and a heavy man-truck, loaded with massive chunks of marble, was being pulled along here by several coolies when the car approached. The uneven paving appears to have swung the truck slightly to one side at the time the car passed, and the coolie in charge of the truck, seeing the danger, shouted out "Stop" to the motorman of the car. The first car passed, the handcart coolies jumping to safety, but the truck swung slightly to one side and the heavy handles met the corner of the trailer as it crashed into them, one handle going through the front and the other through the side of the car, stopping it and throwing it off the track.

So strong was the impact that the handles penetrated more than a foot into the interior of the car, and several persons inside had narrow escapes from serious injury. Passengers were thrown to the floor from the force of the collision, and two Chinese were more or less seriously bruised and scratched through being struck by the truck-handles as they tore through the wood. They were able to walk, however, and refused to go to hospital.

The main car was not damaged, and when the trailer was shifted back to the tracks again the tram was able to move on.

Parliamentarians Return To Peking

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 10.—Official circles appear to attach some importance to reports that Messrs. Peng Yang-kuang and Ma Chi-wu and a number of other members of the House of Representatives, who left Peking at the time of the Presidential election and have since been in touch with General Lu Yung-hsiang, are returning to Peking.

Mr. Feng Tze-yu and some thirty others arrived here last week.

Ostensibly these members left Peking because they objected to the manner in which the Presidential election was carried out and the Constitution was promulgated. Parliamentary circles, however, think that the return of these members was no political significance, and that they merely wish to resume their position as members of Parliament owing to the difficulty of maintaining themselves at Shanghai.

Sinkiang Protests Japan Luxury Tax

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 10.—The Sinkiang Chamber of Commerce has joined its voice to the protests of other bodies against the new luxury tax in Japan, and requests the government to take measures against "the unequal tariff." It appears that export of rugs from Sinkiang to Japan is one of the principal industries likely to be affected.

Council Complains Of Unburied Coffins

Complaint regarding the practice of dumping coffins close to the Settlement Boundary off Kiaochow Road is made by Stirling Fessenden, chairman of the Municipal Council, in a letter addressed to U. S. Consul-General E. S. Cunningham, acting senior consul, in which he requests the Consular Body to arrange with the Chinese authorities for removal and burial of the coffins.

Previous complaints regarding this matter were made by the Council in 1920 and 1921, and the practice was halted for a time, but has again been resumed. Mr. Fessenden's letter states that about 100 coffins are lying there at the present time. He asks that the Consular Body, in addition to arranging with the Chinese authorities for the removal of these coffins, arrange to prohibit in future the depositing of coffins in this locality.

Serious Stabbing Attack; Said To Be Due To Family Feud

A vicious attack was made on a Chinese on Haining Road Tuesday night, the victim being stabbed in the back by a sharp chisel and seriously injured. He is now in hospital under treatment, but is expected to recover.

The man was found by a Chinese constable at about 10 p.m., a short time after the attack. He was partially conscious, but in great pain, and unable to speak. He was taken to the station, however, and after a few hours was able to talk and give the name of his assailant, who was arrested, and who admitted the charge against him. The stabbing appears to be the outcome of a family feud. The defendant frankly admitted the attack, and said it was in revenge for the complainant having stabbed his uncle.

In the Mixed Court yesterday before Mr. Whitamore, British assessor, and Magistrate Li, D.S.I. Yorke gave his opinion that there was a family feud on, and stated that there had been a number of serious stabbing cases recently. He asked that the defendant, who pleaded guilty to the charge against him, be remanded for the appearance of the complainant, and detained in custody. The Court accordingly ordered a remand until such time as the complainant is able to appear, and advised Inspector Yorke that he was expected to inquire fully into the defendant's story.

S.V.C. Service On Robber Raids Not Compulsory

Discussion of the use of members of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps in conjunction with the police in making raids for armed robbers was taken up at a meeting of the Shanghai Municipal Council, the minutes of which appear in today's issue of the Municipal Gazette.

A member had inquired whether such service is entirely voluntary or whether a section of the Corps is compulsorily mobilised for the purpose. It was agreed that the attendance of the Corps for such service must necessarily be voluntary, but that such Volunteers are understood and intended by the Council to be definitely called out by the Council in aid of the civil power.

Dombey And Son's Popular Bill-Heads In Court Again

Messrs. Dombey and Son's billheads appear to be the most popular in Shanghai, to judge from their extensive use by Chinese ice-men throughout the Bubbling Well Road district. Another case in which Dombey's were the complainants came up in the Mixed Court yesterday before Mr. Martin, British Assessor, and Magistrate Loh, the accused being an ice dealer and his coolie, who are charged with having delivered Chinese ice to the home of Mr. Tolson, on Rue Ratard, later presenting a bill purporting to be from Dombey's.

P.C.S. Craik applied for a remand for one week, and permission to search the accused's place, and the Court granted this, remanding the defendant for one week in $500 bail.

Burglar Is Traced By Finger Prints

The Nanking Road larceny case in which a Ronco letter-copier and four electric fans, total value $440, were stolen, was concluded at the Mixed Court yesterday before Mr. Martin, British Assessor, and Magistrate Loh. The accused man, Zung San-doo, was also charged with breaking and entering two places on Foochow Road, at one place taking two electric fans worth $60 and at the other 25 pieces of silk worth $800.

Two other men, a clerk and a shopkeeper, were also arrested, charged with receiving stolen property. They admitted having handled the stolen goods, but claimed they did not know its origin. The first man, the clerk, had obtained the goods from Zung and turned them over to the shopkeeper. Both were found guilty.

Zung, the first accused, was sentenced to two years' imprisonment, and the other two to one year and six months respectively. The property is to be returned to its owners.

CHINESE PRESS REPORTING WAR MOVE IN FUKIEN

Invasion Ordered By Chekiang, Declares Dispatch From Amoy

Continued war-like preparations in Chekiang and Fukien are rumored in the Chinese press.

The Sin Wan Pao, in a special dispatch from Amoy, declares that it is reported on good authority there that a certain provincial commander, presumably General Lu Yung-hsiang of Chekiang, had ordered General Chwang Tai-ping and General Yang Hsu-chao to invade Fukien, and if successful in their invasion, to assist Dr. Sun Yat-sen in combating his enemies in the vicinity of Canton.

After the trouble in the vicinity of Canton is cleared up, it is proposed to join the Cantonese in a northern expedition.

The same dispatch reports that there have been secretly transported to Fukien 2,000,000 rounds of rifle ammunition for the Fukienese rebels.

These occurrences, the dispatch says, account for the hurried departure of General Sun Chuan-fang, tuli of Fukien, for Yuenping and General Tser Jen-sung for Chuanchow.

Arms of Merchants Corps Are Seized By Dr. Sun Yat-Sen

corps were instructed to interview Dr. Sun and demand that the arms be released.

In the meantime, the Merchants' Corps last night proclaimed martial law in Canton and staged a demonstration. Leaders of the corps also declare that they will call a general strike throughout the city of Canton unless their demands that the arms be released are met.

The Merchants' Corps is further incensed over the action of Government authorities in disarming part of the Corps, and since this morning the situation has become more threatening than ever.

Armed Robbery Case Heard In Mixed Court Yesterday

Another big armed robbery case came up in the Mixed Court yesterday afternoon before Mr. Whitamore, British Assessor, and Magistrate Li, when six men and one woman were arraigned in connection with a series of armed robberies in the Settlement, mostly in the north and central districts, in the last few months.

Over a score of Chinese, mostly shopkeepers and shop assistants, appeared in Court yesterday to give evidence against the accused, and testified to having been robbed of various articles, including clothing, jewelry, etc., as well as money. There are sixteen counts against the first defendant alone, and the total amount of property involved runs into several thousand dollars.

The number of complainants was so large that it was impossible to hear them all and finish the case yesterday afternoon, though it was expedited as much as possible and a minimum of questions asked. The defendants were accordingly remanded until this morning, when it is expected the case will be concluded.

Khartoum, Aug. 12.—The trouble at Atbara began by a number of railway troops refusing to obey their Egyptian officers. A mounted infantry detachment of the Egyptian Army as well as British troops arrived and restored order. Subsequently the railway troops broke out again and attacked the mounted infantry, who eventually opened fire. Two mutineers were killed, and sixteen wounded, two of whom died later.

JUDGE PURDY DECIDES COMPLEX VAGRANCY CASE

Consular Protege Dismissed; Other Seaman Found Guilty

Judge Milton D. Purdy presided in the U. S. Court for China here yesterday, it being the Judge's first sitting in Shanghai since his departure for the north of China six weeks ago. The cases up for trial yesterday were those of two American seamen charged with vagrancy.

The first case, that of James M. Wiggin, brought up the complicated question as to what actually constituted vagrancy. The man was being taken care of by the American Consulate at the time of his arrest for begging, and Judge Purdy saw at once that this was not an ordinary vagrancy case in the strict meaning of the law. After a keen analysis of the nature of vagrancy, his Honor decided the defendant was not guilty of the charge of being a vagrant, and dismissed the case.

Wiggin was arrested on July 10 by two Russian constables, Borovsky and Alexandroff, who testified to having seen him begging on Broadway near the Astor House. Mr. Fernandez, manager of the Astor Bar, also gave evidence against the defendant, stating he had seem him around the bar many times asking for money and drinks.

Mr. Graham, of the Shipping Department at the American Consulate, told of the defendant's position as a destitute seaman being supported by the Consulate. He had come to Shanghai from Tsingtao the latter part of June, having been discharged from the s.s. West Niger at the port mentioned on June 20. Applying to the Consulate for help, he was lodged by them at the Wayport Rooms until July 10, when he was arrested on the vagrancy charge.

In giving judgment, the Judge said that the question of what constituted a vagrant was one of the most difficult questions to decide. The defendant, as a destitute seaman, was entitled to receive aid from the Government's officials, and was receiving aid. They were supporting him at the time of his arrest, and expected to get him work on a boat to take him back to the United States. The defendant was really a ward of the Government, and his Honor felt he could not convict of vagrancy under the circumstances. He found the defendant not guilty, and dismissed the case.

In conclusion, the Judge stated emphatically that he did not approve of the conduct of the defendant, and that though he was now discharged, he might expect the Court to take a very different view of the matter if he came up again.

ONE MAN TO BILIBID

The second case up was that of Frank R. Stayshal, 39 years of age, also charged with vagrancy. The defendant was arrested on Broadway on July 10 for begging. A British constable gave evidence of Stayshal's offense, and his arrest.

Stayshal, put on the stand, caused a smile to run around the courtroom when he gave Minneapolis as his home. He had left home twenty years ago and joined the Navy, since when he had followed the sea. He had been discharged from his ship at Shanghai May 24, his articles calling for employment only to this port. The American Consulate interested themselves in the case, and induced the steamship company to permit the five seamen who were paid off here to work their way back, but all five refused, preferring to take the G. $17.50 which the steamship company gave them in lieu of return passage. On account of their refusal to go back on the ship the Consulate had declined to give any of them any assistance whatever. The $200 the defendant had when coming to Shanghai he spent during the six weeks between his arrival and his arrest, and had only some small change on him when arrested.

Judge Purdy pointed out to the man the mistaken path he had chosen in life, now finding himself, at the age of 39, friendless, propertyless, and homeless. The Judge was personally acquainted with several of the people to whom the defendant referred in Minneapolis, where Stayshal's parents are still living. Though the defendant denied the charge of begging, the evidence of the police constable was clear enough, and a conviction of vagrancy was the only verdict possible. His Honor found the defendant guilty and sentenced him to three months' and ten days' imprisonment, at Bilibid, but with the last thirty days on an American vessel bound for the United States.

Foreign Bar At Woosung Is Closed

In orders issued to the district magistrate, General Ho Feng-lin, defense commissioner for Shanghai and Sungkiang, has directed that a foreign-style bar operated by Zee Zang-teh near Woosung be closed.

General Ho states that the bar has been largely patronised by foreigners and that the frequent sights of intoxicated foreigners in motor cars nearby are not conducive to a good morale among his troops.

Serious Loss Of Memory Revealed In Larceny Case

A sad case of forgetfulness was revealed at the Mixed Court yesterday when Tseu Zeu-sung was arraigned before Mr. Martin, British Assessor, and Magistrate Loh, charged with larceny. Tseu went into the shop of Wong Yau-ding, on Woosung Road, a couple of weeks ago. A foreigner at the Central Fire Station, he explained, wished to buy a watch, and had entrusted him to make the purchase. Tseu took a watch on approval, and an assistant at the shop accompanied him to the Fire Station. Tseu went inside, and his subsequent movements are quite unknown to Mr. Wong Yau-ding and his staff, though they identified him when he was arrested a short time ago on another charge, and appeared as complainants in Court yesterday.

It appears that Tseu is suffering from serious loss of memory. He went to the Fire Station with the watch, it seems, but could not find the foreigner who had asked him to buy it. After a long and fruitless search he went out, but had forgotten the door by which he came in, and had furthermore forgotten that there was a gentleman awaiting his exit. He forgot he had the watch in his pocket, and upon discovering it had forgotten where he had got it.

The Court decided that a person suffering from such serious loss of memory should be attended to, and Tseu was assigned to the protection and care of the authorities for two months.

Passionist Priests Will Go To Hankow And Later To Hunan

Rev. Edward Campbell, who has been in charge of the Passionist mission in Hankow for the past year, arrived in Shanghai yesterday to welcome the deputation of thirteen Passionist fathers who arrived in China on the President Wilson Tuesday. Father Campbell will conduct the party to Hankow on Monday. They will remain there a few days before proceeding to the mission at Shenchowfu where they will spend a year in studying the rudiments of the Mandarin tongue which is official dialect in Hunan where they will be stationed. Following their study the thirteen priests, headed by their superior, Rev. Cuthbert O'Gara, will be sent to various mission stations in the interior, in Hunan province.

The Passionist fathers all come direct from the Provincial house in West Hoboken, New Jersey, which is directly across the river from New York City. West Hoboken has become famous in recent years because of the production of the American Passion Play, "Veronica's Veil," which is given annually during the Lenten season, under the auspices of the Passionist fathers.

YOU CAN BE CERTAIN OF QUALITY WHEN YOU BUY RUBBER GOODS

There are just two ways of spending your money when you buy one or more of the thousands of different articles made of or in combination with rubber.

One way is to take chances—to gamble and buy just a tire, inner tube, hot-water bottle or pair of over shoes.

The other way is to buy the good rubber products of the largest manufacturer of rubber goods in the world, the United States Rubber Company.

When you buy any article bearing the trade mark of the United States Rubber Company you know it is good—uniformly good. For now, with the United States Rubber Company's two new revolutionary discoveries—The New Sprayed Rubber and The New Web Cord—you are assured of the purest rubber ever produced, with its natural properties unimpaired and uniform quality throughout.

Look for the "U.S." trade mark when next you buy anything made of or with rubber.

The principle that nobody wins a war, the only question being as to which loses least, appears to have been demonstrated in the case of two coolies arrested early yesterday morning for fighting on Avenue Edward VII. The two men quarreled over some money, and verbal arguments finally led to fisticuffs, when the law took a hand and the two were marched off to the police station. One man appears to have given the other some counterfeit money. Each makes the accusation against the other, and it is highly probable in either case, as both men, when searched, were found to have a few dollars worth of twenty-cent pieces on them, all of it, however, bad. The two men appeared at the Mixed Court yesterday, and were remanded for further inquiries.

Advices from Tungliao on the Ssupingkai-Taonan Line report the second flood in that district. By the overflow of the Liao, that locality turned into a lake of muddy water. The walls of the town collapsed at places, and the streets were submerged 4 ft. Many houses were brought down, and a good number of lives and cattle were lost. The railway track about Tungliao Station was submerged in about 2 in. of turbid water. All the residences of the station employees got flooded, and the inmates were obliged to take shelter in the station compound.

The Impermanent Dog And The Eternal Tax-Collector

Dogs may come and dogs may go, but taxes go on forever, is the thought suggested by the first case in the British Police Court yesterday morning before Mr.G. W. King, when Mr. D. B. Vernay, charged with keeping a dog without a license, stated that the dog for which he got a license last year was dead, and could no longer trouble the authorities. He admitted, however, that he had now acquired another dog, and stated that he had taken out a license for it the same morning, before the opening of the Court. Magistrate King imposed a fine of $2.

Mr. H. J. Fruin, of the Shanghai Times, was the second defendant in Court, also charged with failure to take out a license for his dog. Inspector Inwood testified to having called on the defendant last month, but failed to find him at home. He had left a notice, giving it to the house-boy. Mr. Fruin expressed great indignation, stating he had failed to receive the notice. Magistrate King suggested that the defendant express his indignation to the houseboy, and fined him $2.

BOXING TO NIGHT

Syd Keenan and Rufe Canion, principals in to-night's main event at the Carlton Roof Garden, will weigh in this afternoon at two o'clock. Both have agreed to make the 118 mark. It sure will be a pippin of a scrap from the word go with a possibility of a haymaker settling the issue. Both lads are in the pink of condition and he will be bold who dares predict the winner before they step in to the roped arena.

As stated before, the card is bound to draw a packed house for there isn't a weak spot in any of the contests. Everyone will be full of fireworks, and judging from the manner local fight fans applaud at previous fights, to-night's card will go strong.

Bobby Favacho is meeting Cyclone Williams, while Nelsky will try conclusions with Kid Mystery. The latter is an old-timer and is well known to followers of fistiana. The curtain-raiser will be a clash twixt Battling Kuba and Terrible Pete.

Last week's Boxing Program Guessing Competition was won by Mr. E. Brooks. This entitles him to 2 complimentary tickets for tonight's bouts (Thursday). The card promises to be one of sensations and science. Keenan has trained for the main event as he never trained before in Shanghai. Canion, too is anxious for victory, as much depends on it, viz. a return match with Billy Tingle for the bantamweight belt. The contestants in all the other bouts carry a punch.

Booking is going great, and, at the time of writing, it looks as if seats will be at a premium

Daring Jump

Italian officers are said to be the finest and most daring riders in the world today, but this jump seems a little too daring for the average horseman. This dashing officer of the 20th Italian Artillery is shown jumping his horse through the window of the armory in Rome.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER WORKS HARD ON 85TH BIRTHDAY

Attends As Usual To His Varied Interests And Reads Messages

New York, July 9.—John D. Rockefeller was 85 years old yesterday and he celebrated his birthday at his estate at Pocantico Hills, Tarrytown, by working harder than he has any day for the last year. Although Mr. Rockefeller retired from active management of the affairs of the Standard Oil Company many years ago, it was said at his home that the general belief that business cares no longer engrossed Mr. Rockefeller was a mistake and that he kept in intimate touch with the details of his varied affairs, spending several hours daily in the task.

Yesterday he not only attended to all current matters of business but also went through a mass of telegrams and letters received from all over the world extending felicitations. The messages gave Mr. Rockefeller genuine satisfaction and he made no effort to conceal his pleasure. Although he declined to make public a list of those who sent him birthday congratulations, it was said that "it would read like Who's Who in America."

Among the messages received was one from his son, John D. Rockefeller Jr., who recently left his Summer home at Seal Harbor Me., for a business trip to Colorado. Executives of the Standard Oil Company, and its various subsidiaries in all parts of the world, and scores of persons prominent in the public life of this and other countries, wired or wrote to Mr. Rockefeller on his birthday.

Although he denied himself to newspaper reporters and the camera men who sought to photograph him as he started for his private golf course, Mr. Rockefeller issued a formal statement which read as follows:

"Mr. Rockefeler is well and happy on his eight-fifth birthday with all his kind friends about him and with good will for everybody. He has no special message except to express great gratitude for all his blessings and for the opportunities life has brought him for service to his fellow men."

ENTERTAINS A HOUSE PARTY

A party of relatives and intimate friends, the personnel of which was not given out, were house guests of Mr. Rockefeller at Pocantico Hills yesterday and some of them will remain there for several days.

Although it was his birthday, Mr. Rockefeller said that he would make no change in his daily program. He arose at his usual hour, ate a light breakfast and, after reading telegrams and letters for a short time, he started for the golf course. Although the sun was hot, and the humidity made physical exertion uncomfortable to many in the neighborhood of Tarrytown, Mr. Rockefeller played with zest. He seemed not in the least fatigued when he returned to the house for luncheon. Then followed more telegrams and letters and a short rest.

Because of a shower and the usual amount of mail on his desk, it was thought that Mr. Rockefeller would abandon his usual afternoon motor ride through the Westchester Hills. He decided to go, however, after the rain stopped, but the ride was somewhat shorter than usual and brought him back home in season for another session with his correspondence, and his second rest period of the day.

The dinner hour brought Mr. Rockefeller and his guests together again. The meal was entirely informal, it was said, and the band concert, which has been a feature of the evening on Mr. Rockefeller's birthdays in recent years, was dispensed with. It was said that the absence of his son was responsible for [illegible] of any effort to make the day one of celebration at the Rockefeller estate.

Lancashire made 209 (Makepeace 100) and 150. Essex scored 180 and 174.

(Reuter's Service)

Portsmouth, Aug. 12.—In dull weather today, the match between the South African cricketers and the United Services was concluded, resulting in a draw. The attendance was small.

The wicket was good and the South Africans brought their score from 148 for 4 to 420 (Taylor, 118, and Catterall, 72, both completing 1,000 runs during their tour). Jameson took 7 wickets for 152.

When stumps were drawn the Services' score stood at 88 for 2 wickets.

Scores: South Africans 182 and 420. United Services 418 and 88 for 2.

What The Chinese Papers Are Saying

Peking, Aug. 12.—The Bureau of Sino-Russian Affairs proposes to send General Tang Tsai-li to Urga to eradicate the misunderstanding between Peking and the Outer Mongolian Government. But General Tang has not yet consented to go.—Sin Wan Pao.

Peking, Aug. 12.—Traffic along the Peking-Hankow Railway will be resumed on Thursday.—Sin Wan Pao.

Peking, Aug. 12.—Wang Yung-pao has tendered his resignation as Minister to Tokio, because of the failure of Peking in providing funds for the students in Japan and the procrastination on the part of the Educational Commissioner, Kwei Shou-chu, in proceeding to his post.—Sin Wan Pao.

Peking, Aug. 12.—Dr. J. G. Scherman, the American Minister, will leave here for Shanghai tomorrow. The Ministry of Communications have ordered a special couch for him. The Italian Minister will act as Doyen of the Diplomatic Corps after his departure. Mr. W. R. Peck, the Chinese Secretary, returned from Weihaiwei yesterday to assume office as Charge d'Affaires of the American Legation. With the exception of the Spanish Legation, the ministers in Peking have been instructed by their home governments to endorse the plan of returning the Russian Legation to the Soviets, as soon as th reply is received from Spain, the retrocession will take place.—Sin Wan Pao.

Mukden, Aug. 12.—A memorial service in memory of the dead during the Chihli-Fengtien War will be held on the 14th, 15th and 16th of this month under the personal direction of General Chang Tso-lin at the Siaohhonyen Recreation Ground. All the military officers in the capital have been invited to participate.—Sin Wan Pao.

Mukden, Aug. 12.—In spite of his leave of absence for a week, General Chang Hsieh-liang will participate in the drills of the 27th division at Hulutao. Before his departure, General Chang requested Generals Chang Tso-hsiang and Wu Tsing-shun to keep him informed of the developments in Mukden and would come back to Mukden if necessary. Otherwise, he will proceed to Chingchow for two weeks in order to inspect the 27th division there after the expiration of his leave of absence.—Sin Wan Pao.

Peking, Aug. 12.—While the Mukden-Soviet parley has been deadlocked, the Mukden-Japanese Convention is being concluded successfully. Under the new agreement, Japan enjoy the leasehold in South Manchuria for 30 years.—Shun Pao.

Peking, Aug. 12.—The livelihood here is increasingly difficult. The income of the teacher of a primary school is less than that of the ricsha coolie. Ministrial secretaries earn less than the chauffeurs. The pokce constables are starving, but the beggars have plenty to eat.—Shun Pao.

Hongkong, Aug. 12.—During the administrative conference held at the Headquarters of the Generalissimo, Mr. Hu Han-ming accused Mr. Tseng Hung-mien, Acting Minister of Finance, of having accepted a bribe of $40,000 from sugar merchants who were seeking to secure the right of collecting the sugar surtax. Dr. Sun yesterday appointed Hu and a commission to investigate into the scandal. It is understood that Tseng will leave for Shanghai shortly.—Eastern Times.

Peking, Aug. 12.—The Cabinet at its meeting today decided to appoint Han Kuo-ching, Ma Lien-chia and Li Chi-cheng, governors of Kiangsu, Anhui and Honan respectively as co-directors of the Huai River Valley Conservancy.—Eastern Times.

Hankow, Aug. 12.—The railway station here predicts the early collapse of the Yellow River Bridge. The foreign engineer who supervises the bridge has tendered his resignation.—Eastern Times.

Peking, Aug. 12.—Foul play is believed to be the cause of the fatal fall of Tseng Jen-kang, the Hunan Parliamentarians who fell over board the Peking-Mukden Railway recently. It is understood that the instigator of the murder was a former Minister of Finance, while the murderer was a man named Wang. Miss Tseng Su-tseng, the daughter of the deceased, is now gathering evidence to prosecute the culprits who are residing in the Japanese Concession in Tientsin.—Shanghai Tribune.

Tientsin, Aug. 12.—A new station is being erected between Pei Tsang and Yang Cheng along the Peking-Mukden Line at a cost of $60,000.—Shanghai Tribune.

Peking, Aug. 12.—General Sun Chuan-fang of Fukien, has asked for a month's leave of absence in order to enable him to recuperate his health in Peking.—Shanghai Tribune.

Hankow, Aug. 12.—Locusts have appeared in the vicinity of the City of Chungyang, Hupeh.—Shanghai Tribune.

Canton, Aug. 11.—The Customs Authorities today discovered 10,000 rifles and 3,000,000 rounds of ammunition on board a foreign vessel. Dr. Sun has despatched the Gunboat Yung Feng to scrutinise the movement of the ship.—Republican Daily News.

"Began to think she would never get well."
Our Portrait is of Miss FLORRIE ORGAN, of 100, Clark Street, Ladywood, Birmingham, England, whose father writes:
"My daughter Florrie was suffering with a very bad head covered with Sores and Eruptions, and in fact her mother was afraid to comb her hair. She had been under several doctors, but all to no purpose, so I began to think she would never get well again and lose all her hair. As your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' cured me of Glandular Swellings in the Neck some years ago, and so averted my having to undergo an operation, I decided to give 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' a fair trial in the case of my daughter, and I am pleased to say it effected a wonderful cure in just over a fortnight."
SUFFERERS from Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Piles, Eczema, Boils, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Gout, should realise that lotions and ointments can but give temporary relief; to be sure of complete and lasting benefit the blood must be thoroughly cleansed of the impure waste matter the root cause of such troubles. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacks, overcomes and expels the impurities; that is why so many remarkable recoveries stand to its credit. Pleasant to take, and free from injurious ingredients.

Szechuen Is Threatened With More Internal Wars

(Independent News Service)

Chungking, Aug. 4.—General Chow Hsi-cheng, the famous and daring leader of the Southern (1st Army) forces who "came back" several times last summer and attacked Chungking has been given an important post with the title "Sze Chung." His territory was definitely agreed upon but the present occupant of the territory, General Yang Chuen-fang, refused to hand over. Fighting ensued which was responsible for many wild rumors to the effect that General Chow was coming back to Chungking. Reliable reports today, however, say that General Liu Hsiang, Defense commissioner for Szechuan-Yunnan-Tibetan Borders, has been able to settle the fighting and the assigned territories are to be strictly observed.

Territory rights have also caused trouble in several other places. Some fighting has taken place but speedy adjustment is promised. It is feared that some trouble is brewing between Governor Yang (Military Governor) and Teng (Civil Governor) over the sources of revenue. Fighting is now taking place at Hsuan Ching between General Ho Kuang-lieh (perhaps Szechuen's best general and a leader of Governor Yang Sen's faction) and some of Civil Governor Teng's men. The Civil Governor has fewer chances of controlling revenue than do the strictly military offices. General Yan Tsuinin is the "nigger in the wood pile," it seems, for he is still controlling many sources of revenue although he is supposed to be getting ready for his Kweichow campaign and is to leave "Szechuen to the Szechuenese." Fighting between factions is predicted for Szechuen within sixty days. We hope however for a peaceful settlement.

CHUNGKING NOTES

Mr. T. M. Ki, Special Comissioner for Foreign Affairs under Governor Yang Sen is in Chungking today on his way to Shanghai. He has a special commission from General Yang Sen. He reported everything peaceful on the route from Chengtu via the Little River.

Mr. John Muir, business man in Chengtu and special advisor to General Yang Sen, was in Chungking for a few days at the end of July. Mr. Muir is the West China representative for the "China Weekly Review" and several other papers.

On August 16 the foreign community will sing the cantata "Daughter of Jairus" by Stainer. The chorus has been trained and led by Mrs. C. D. Dixon, who is a fine musician. The soloists will be Miss Mabel Allen, Mr. B. M. Barry and Mr. F. G. Green. The first half of the evening's program will be made up of special vocal and instrumental numbers. The latter half is given to the cantata. Mrs. Dixon is a daughter of the late Dr. Timothy Richards, famous missionary-auther-signologue.

Mr. R. J. Davidson of the Friends Missionary Societies spoke on July 31 at the Chungking Missionary Association on "History of Szechuen Mission Work." The account which was vivid and interesting, showed that great progress has been made during the last thirty-eight years, the time covered by Mr. Davidson's reminiscences. At the close of the highly worthwhile program, Dr. and Mrs. Parry of the C. I. M. (China Inland Mission) were presented two handsome silver vases and several useful pieces of cross-stitch work. Dr. and Mrs. Parry have completed 40 years of remarkably successful mission service in China and are still young and actively at work in a large and important task of both medical and Evangelistic service.

Miss Harriet Smith of the Shengtu Y. W. C. A. recently passed thru Chungking enroute to American on furlough.

Miss Maud Bartau of the Yale-in-China Hospital at Changsha and Miss Olive Tomlin of St. Hilda's School, Wuchang are due in Chungking about August 15. They will visit Mr. and Mrs. Sheets and other friends.

The Chungking Civilians beat the U. S. S. "Palos" at baseball in late July. Score was 12-8. Batteries. Civilians P.-Bolton, C.-Anderson, and Smyth, Palos—P.-Wilson C.-Ricka. A number of good cricket games have been played between the civilians and H. M. S. "Cockchafer" crew and other British gun boats.

The crew of the "Cockchafer" gave a popular concert on Saturday August 2 and a good crowd greatly enjoyed the well rendered program.

The Chungking bachelors gave a delightful dinner dance on July 25 at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lewis of the A. P. C. Everyone reports a "real time" with plenty of good fun.

Mr. Eynard, French consul, is leaving Chungking on home leave. Dr. A. Paris will be acting consul in his place.

Miss Archer, sister of Mr. Allan Archer, British Consul, returned to Chungking from Shanghai the latter part of July.

Mother's Objection Overruled As Molly Bobs Hair In Air

Girl Soars Into Sky To Adopt Prevailing Mode Of Hair-Cut

Countless husbands, parents, and other male relatives of up-to-date ladies intent on bobbing their locks have "gone up in the air" when the adventurous ones returned home with their respective heads, shingled, or boyish-bobbed, or shorn in any other of the prevailing hair-cut modes of the day. It remained for Molly Michaelson of Chicago, to go up in the air to circumvent her mother's objections to the application of the scissors to Molly's long tresses.

"Never on earth," was the flat answer of Molly's ma when her daughter pleaded for permission to bob her hair.

Molly hied herself to Tony de John, barber and ladies' hair washer for her regular weekly shampoo and while immersed in suds and sobs confided her troubles and her mother's ultimatum to Tony.

"I can't endure this great mop of hair any longer," sobbed Molly. "I want a 'glee clip' or a 'Sheba shingle' but mother said, 'No, never on earth.' I suppose I'll have to wait till I'm an angel before I can get my hair cut and who ever saw a heavenly harp-player with a bob?"

Tony, being an ultra-progressive tonsorial artist in every sense of the word, besides having a chivalric streak in his Latin nature that rebelled at seeing beauty in distress, declared he could fix it. He packed his scissors in a bag and he and Molly made a trip to a flying field just outside of Chicago. They climbed into the rear seat of a plane, the pilot soared to the height of 1,500 feet and there Tony wielded his shears and Molly's locks went snip-snip over the side of the plane into the new-mown hay in the fields below. A photographer in another plane, flying close by, took pictures of the operation to prove to Mrs. Michaelson that her daughter had taken her at her word and that she had not attempted to have her hair bobbed on a mundane world but had soared into the higher atmosphere to turn the trick.

INDIANS LEARNING WHITE MAN'S WAYS IN AMERICA NOW

Commissioner Burke Tells What Is Being Done To Educate Them

"Some of the things the Government is doing to educate the Indians in America are told by Charles H. Burke, United States Commissioner of Indian Affairs, in a bulletin of the Bureau of Education. There are now hundreds of schools for Indian children, and recently night schools for adults have been introduced at the request of the Indians themselves.

"Practical training is given to the pupils and as a result there are many hundreds of young men among the Indians who can, if necessary, shoe a horse and repair its harness, and even build a house, and there are many young Indian women who can do any kind of housework, care for children according to hygienic methods and give to their homes a touch that makes them attractive.

"This product of the schools, asserting itself in the new generation," says Commissioner Bruke, "is not returning to the 'blanket life,' as sometimes carelessly asserted. As a rule, the returned student is the leader and substanial civiliser of the red race, and the greatest reconstructive force that can be employed to that end."

Commissioner Burke points out that the literary work of advanced students in the boarding schools compares favorably with that of the best public high schools and would often do credit to college. School reading rooms are generally well supplied. The students prepare papers in historical and other live subjects, and their discussions of questions in debate show a wide range of scientific information and a good grasp of political issues. In the literary societies they gain a knowledge of parliamentary procedure.

HOME ARTS TAUGHT

What is being done to eliminate illiteracy among the Indian population of 340,000 is known and appreciated by comparatively few people, says the Commissioner, who continues: "With studies properly adjusted to the pupils' needs and with non-essentials and useless repetition eliminated, it is possible to provide daily three to four hours of productive industrial work on the farm, in the shops or in the various domestic departments of the schools without serious detriment to academic work.

"The academic instruction is correlated closely with this industrial and domestic training, and it all begins in an elementary way in most of the 150 day schools for Indian children, where usually each school is conducted by a man and his wife, as teacher and housekeeper, respectively. A garden plot and facilities for teaching boys the use of a few tools and girls the simpler elements of household work are generally provided.

"This form of school carries civilisation to the great mass of Indians; other types of schools carry a few Indians to civilisation. The influence of these schools, planted almost at the door of Indian homes, is not limited to the children alone, but reaches the parents and entire community, and every day leaves its permanent mark. It becomes, when properly equipped and managed by competent teachers, the center of community interests. All kinds of helpful activities in farming, dairying, gardening, stock raising, cooking, canning, sewing, nursing, household management, and sanitation may be and are introduced into these communities.

"The forty-three reservation boarding schools enroll children from the first to the sixth grade, inclusive. Their work parallels in all academic features that of the public schools, but introduces in the last three years much prevocational training practically essential to the domestic and industrial life of the rural home.

WORK FOR SCHOOL UPKEEP

"In their home training girls have regular instruction and practice in cooking, sewing, laundering, nursing and poultry raising. Boys are given agricultural courses and practice in farming, plant production, care of implements, roads and grounds, and dairying, together with such knowledge of carpentry, painting, masonry, blacksmithing, engineering, &c., as is ordinarily needed on a farm. All pupils are taught gardening.

"This instruction and practice in the art of doing the essential things required in the daily life of those who must later support themselves is further enlarged in the twenty-six non-reservation boarding schools, some of which continue vocational work through the eighth grade, but seven of the larger give four-year vocational courses above the sixth grade and one gives six years. In this school two years of normal training and two years of business training are offered. The work of all boarding schools is thoroughly systematised and pupils are under such control as to acquire the most useful education possible within the time allotted, while those who complete the higher vocational training are equal, and in some respects superior, in qualification to the graduates from public high schools.

"In Government Indian schools a large amount of productive work not only affords practical training, but it is necessary to the proper support of the schools, as they could not possibly be maintained on the legislative appropriations hitherto provided. In fact, at many of the boarding schools much of the upkeep labor is performed by the students, and in addition the farming, gardening, dairying and other activities yield considerable subsistence and occasionally a marketable surplus.

"Nearly as many Indian children are now in public schools as in Government, mission and private schools. This is desirable, and is encouraged whenever conditions reasonably permit. Tuition is paid for children of Indians who pay no taxes, and special effort is made to cooperate with State public school officials to secure increased attendance.

"Another phase of Indian education received attention for the first time during the year just passed. It is the night school for adult Indians. One school is conducted in northern North Dakota, and another in Vamori village on the Pauago Reservation in southern Arizona. The latter school was established at the request of Mathias Hendricks, the chief of the village, who attends the school himself and encourages his people to do so. The Indians are greatly interested in the school, and it is all the more successful because they initiated the plan."

MAILS COME ON ASIA AND GRANT FRIDAY, SUNDAY

Angkor And Polk Will Take Next Mail For Europe

The Empress of Asia from Vancouver via Japan ports which is bringing in the next mail from America arrived in Kobe on Tuesday and left Nagasaki yesterday afternoon. The liner is due at the China Merchants Lower wharf tomorrow at noon. The Asia will leave for Hongkong and Manila the following morning.

The President Grant of the Admiral Line fleet is expected in port on Sunday also bringing American mail while the Empress of Australia from Manila and Hongkong will sail from this port carrying mail for America on Sunday night.

Mail for Europe via Suez will be carried by the M.M. Steamer Angkor which is due to leave this morning for Marseilles and the Dollar liner President Polk sailing tomorrow morning from the Standard Oil wharf. The N. Y. K. Steamber Kamo Maru is due to arrive from London with European mail and will continue her trip to Kobe Sunday morning.

WEMBLEY'S MILLIONS

"It was stated recently by a Minister speaking in the House of Commons that, to place the success of Wembley beyond all doubt, the aggregate attendance must reach 30,000,000. The Exhibition is to be open for just over six months, so that an average daily attendance of something like 180,000 is necessary if the desired result is to be achieved. So far, that average has not been nearly reached, let alone maintained," says the Birmingham Post.

Police Guard Church from Firebugs.

REV. FR ALBERT DUARTE.

A day and night police guard has been placed over St. Anthony's Church, in Cambridge, Mass., to prevent firebugs from destroying the edifice, as they have threatened to do since the removal of Rev. Father Albert Durate, assistant pastor, by Cardinal O'Connell.

INDIANS LEARNING WHITEMAN'S WAYS IN AMERICA NOW

Commissioner Burke Tells What Is Being Done To Educate Them

Some of the things the Government is doing to educate the Indians in America are told by Charles H. Burke, United States Commissioner of Indian Affairs, in a bulletin of the Bureau of Education. There are now hundreds of schools for Indian children, and recently night schools for adults have been introduced at the request of the Indians themselves.

Practical training is given to the pupils and as a result there are many hundreds of young men among the Indians who can, if necessary, shoe a horse and repair its harness, and even build a house, and there are many young Indian women who can do any kind of housework, care for children according to hygienic methods and give to their homes a touch that makes them attractive.

"This product of the schools, asserting itself in the new generation," says Commissioner Bruke, "is not returning to the 'blanket life,' as sometimes carelessly asserted. As a rule, the returned student is the leader and substanial civiliser of the red race, and the greatest reconstructive force that can be employed to that end."

Commissioner Burke points out that the literary work of advanced students in the boarding schools compares favorably with that of the best public high schools and would often do credit to college. School reading rooms are generally well supplied. The students prepare papers in historical and other live subjects, and their discussions of questions in debate show a wide range of scientific information and a good grasp of political issues. In the literary societies they gain a knowledge of parliamentary procedure.

HOME ARTS TAUGHT

What is being done to eliminate illiteracy among the Indian population of 340,000 is known and appreciated by comparatively few people, says the Commissioner, who continues: "With studies properly adjusted to the pupils' needs and with non-essentials and useless repetition eliminated, it is possible to provide daily three to four hours of productive industrial work on the farm, in the shops or in the various domestic departments of the schools without serious detriment to academic work.

"The academic instruction is correlated closely with this industrial and domestic training, and it all begins in an elementary way in most of the 150 day schools for Indian children, where usually each school is conducted by a man and his wife, as teacher and housekeeper, respectively. A garden plot and facilities for teaching boys the use of a few tools and girls the simpler elements of household work are generally provided.

"This form of school carries civilisation to the great mass of Indians; other types of schools carry a few Indians to civilisation. The influence of these schools, planted almost at the door of Indian homes, is not limited to the children alone, but reaches the parents and entire community, and every day leaves its permanent mark. It becomes, when properly equipped and managed by competent teachers, the center of community interests. All kinds of helpful activities in farming, dairying, gardening, stock raising, cooking, canning, sewing, nursing, household management, and sanitation may be and are introduced into these communities.

"The forty-three reservation boarding schools enroll children from the first to the sixth grade, inclusive. Their work parallels in all academic features that of the public schools, but introduces in the last three years much prevocational training practically essential to the domestic and industrial life of the rural home.

WORK FOR SCHOOL UPKEEP

"In their home training girls have regular instruction and practice in cooking, sewing, laundering, nursing and poultry raising. Boys are given agricultural courses and practice in farming, plant production, care of implements, roads and grounds, and dairying, together with such knowledge of carpentry, painting, masonry, blacksmithing, engineering, &c., as is ordinarily needed on a farm. All pupils are taught gardening.

"This instruction and practice in the art of doing the essential things required in the daily life of those who must later support themselves is further enlarged in the twenty-six non-reservation boarding schools, some of which continue vocational work through the eighth grade, but seven of the larger give four-year vocational courses above the sixth grade and one gives six years. In this school two years of normal training and two years of business training are offered. The work of all boarding schools is thoroughly systematised and pupils are under such control as to acquire the most useful education possible within the time allotted, while those who complete the higher vocational training are equal, and in some respects superior, in qualification to the graduates from public high schools.

"In Government Indian schools a large amount of productive work not only affords practical training, but it is necessary to the proper support of the schools, as they could not possibly be maintained on the legislative appropriations hitherto provided. In fact, at many of the boarding schools much of the upkeep labor is performed by the students, and in addition the farming, gardening, dairying and other activities yield considerable subsistence and occasionally a marketable surplus.

"Nearly as many Indian children are now in public schools as in Government, mission and private schools. This is desirable, and is encouraged whenever conditions reasonably permit. Tuition is paid for children of Indians who pay no taxes, and special effort is made to cooperate with State public school officials to secure increased attendance.

"Another phase of Indian education received attention for the first time during the year just passed. It is the night school for adult Indians. One school is conducted in northern North Dakota, and another in Vamori village on the Pauago Reservation in southern Arizona. The latter school was established at the request of Mathias Hendricks, the chief of the village, who attends the school himself and encourages his people to do so. The Indians are greatly interested in the school, and it is all the more successful because they initiated the plan."

MAILS COME ON ASIA AND GRANT FRIDAY, SUNDAY

Angkor And Polk Will Take Next Mail For Europe

The Empress of Asia from Vancouver via Japan ports which is bringing in the next mail from America arrived in Kobe on Tuesday and left Nagasaki yesterday afternoon. The liner is due at the China Merchants Lower wharf tomorrow at noon. The Asia will leave for Hongkong and Manila the following morning.

The President Grant of the Admiral Line fleet is expected in port on Sunday also bringing American mail while the Empress of Australia from Manila and Hongkong will sail from this port carrying mail for America on Sunday night.

Mail for Europe via Suez will be carried by the M.M. Steamer Angkor which is due to leave this morning for Marseilles and the Dollar liner President Polk sailing tomorrow morning from the Standard Oil wharf. The N. Y. K. Steamber Kamo Maru is due to arrive from London with European mail and will continue her trip to Kobe Sunday morning.

WEMBLEY'S MILLIONS

"It was stated recently by a Minister speaking in the House of Commons that, to place the success of Wembley beyond all doubt, the aggregate attendance must reach 30,000,000. The Exhibition is to be open for just over six months, so that an average daily attendance of something like 180,000 is necessary if the desired result is to be achieved. So far, that average has not been nearly reached, let alone maintained," says the Birmingham Post.

PERILS LURK IN SEARCH FOR OIL IN LUZON

Hazards Of Wildcatting Illustrated In Recent Review

The hazards in the search for new oil fields is clearly illustrated in a recent review of the campaign carried on by the Standard Oil Company of California in the Philippines. After five years' work, and the expenditure of more than a million dollars the company has abandoned its search for oil on the Bondoc Peninsula, Island of Luzon, in the Philippine group. The holes drilled all proved to be "dusters." The area prospected, which seemed promising from surface indications, did not bear oil beyond traces, and the wildcatters struck camp and started home.

"The Philippines expedition furnishes a striking example of the hazards of the oil industry," says the company in its monthly publication. "The search for hidden deposits of petroleum is uncertain—the industry seeks and sometimes finds, and sometimes doesn't. In either case the expense is great, requiring resources of vast size. The expenditures in the Philippines will run to approximately a million and a quarter dollars. There is compensation, however, for where many wildcat ventures may fail one may succeed with profitable results. Such is the history of oil.

"The Bondoc adventure proves, too, that there is something more to the oil industry than merely the manufacture and sale of petroleum products. Back of the gasoline pump, which is the public's principal point of contact with this vital industry, there is a stupendous activity of which the public is little aware—an activity which leads to the ends of the earth in a quest for new oil. The public hears much of successes, of wells gushing quantities of "black gold." Of the failures, of the great financial risks, of the great losses which often must be borne, it knows very little.

AN UNCEASING SEARCH

"The world moves on oil, and it is the obligation of those engaged in the industry never to permit the supply to fail. Hence, the unceasing search, which nowadays goes far afield. This company today has drilling parties in Alaska, Colombia, Ecuador and Argentina, as well as in several States at home, while its geologists are scouring the earth for likely-looking territory.

"Having heard reports of favorable surface condition on the Bondoc Peninsula, the company initiated its own geological survey in 1919. In the Spring of 1920 it was recommended that the company should drill, and lands were then acquired. In 1920 there was a shortage of oil on the Pacific Coast. California fields did not produce enough to meet the rapidly growing demand. Later new fields were discovered here, which finally brought a condition of overproduction. But in 1920 a great task confronted this company—that of keeping up an unfailing supply of petroleum to meet the requirements of the future. Hence, it was decided to wildcat at Bondoc."

An expedition sailed from San Francisco for Manila in December, 1920, it was continued. Everything necessary to life and work had to be shipped from California. The shipment ran to a thousand tons of material. The timber for the rigs, all machinery, road building apparatus, and even the supply of manila rope were transported across the Pacific, along with a field hospital equipment. Twenty-five California oil field workers composed the party. The field of operations was in a wild, scarcely inhabited region of Southern Luzon, well away from civilisation, a tropical land of great heat and torrential rain, an area of typhoons, of fetid humidity and lurking disease, of snakes, monkeys and alligators, deer and wild pigs.

For more than three years, according to the company, the work proceeded steadily, but with climatic interruptions. The rains brought floods; the typhoons were destructive. The first hole was drilled to 1,200 feet and was abandoned on account of mechanical trouble. No oil was found in this well. The second was drilled to 3,550 feet, and again no oil was found. The third well, which constituted the final effort of the company, was drilled to a depth of 5,120 feet, almost a mile into the earth. Again no oil, and the company ended the search for oil in that part of the world.

PRAISE FOR THE WORKMEN

The company, however, praises the men who carried on this hazardous work amid the jungles of the Philippines. It says that for these Californians "it has been a long, arduous and hazardous job. While everything possible for health, recreation and comfort was provided in this far-off place, it was still a wearisome task. The nearest barrio was a dozen miles away, and there only a handful of natives. White men seldom come that way. Frequently the roads were utterly impassable, even between the two Standard Oil camps which had been built nine miles apart. Once isolation was complete for a month—the radio went out of commission, the intercamp telephone wire was blown down—and the road a deep mire. Disease, particularly malaria and dysentery, was an always present menace, and some became ill, but as a whole health was good, due to proper sanitation. Of recreation there was little or none—some hunting when the rain allowed. During the wet season it was, for the most part, imprisonment in camp.

The effort of the company in the Philippines, says the bulletin, was watched with great interest by the United States Government, numerous branches of which realised the vast importance of an American oil supply on the other side of the Pacific Ocean. The failure of the company to find oil in Bondoc, however, does not prove that there there is no oil in "the islands," says the review. It means that there is none in the area prospected. There is some oil to the north, in Japan, and to the south, in Borneo, and, the company says, it may yet be found in the Philippine group, where there has been only one real drilling campaign—the one just finished.

CANADA GAINS FAST IN GOLD PRODUCTION

Expert Says It Will Oust U.S. By 1929 As Producer

New York, July 15.—Canada by 1929 will displace the United States as second among the gold-producing countries of the world, according to a prediction by Louis D. Huntoon, New York mining engineer and a former Professor of Mining and Metallurgy in Yale University. Canada is now third, with Africa ranking first.

Mr. Huntoon, after a prolonged study of the Dominion's gold district, reported his conclusions in the official journal of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

According to him, Canada's output is increasing rapidly, while that of the United States has been declining rapidly since 1915. For the last eleven years the United States produced 18.7 percent of the world's output, the last year's total, now estimated at $51,000,000, being about 50 percent of that for 1915.

"During these eleven years," says Professor Huntoon, "the Dominion of Canada has produced 4.5 percent of the total production of the world; in 1922 the production increased to 8.1 percent. This rapid increase in the gold production of Canada and rapid development of new gold deposits which as yet have not been equipped with mills of sufficient capacity to handle the ore developed will have an important bearing on the world's production.

"In view of the producing mines, areas being developed, areas being explored, and the favorable areas to be explored, it is my opinion that within the next five years the production of the Dominion will exceed the present production of the United States.

"These new mines promise permanency. They are lode or vein deposits; they have been developed to a depth of 2,500 feet, and there is every indication that they will continue to a great depth. The permanency of the deposits with depth is based not only on the present depth and values but also on petrographic analyses of ores from many of the producing mines and non-producing areas."

Pointing to the steady increase in the world's gold production since 1915, Mr. Huntoon takes the position that Maynard Keynes, the English economist, is in error in holding that a quarter of a century has passed since the discovery of an important gold deposit. Within the last ten years, he points out, two very important gold producing areas have been developed in Ontario.

In a forecast for 1924, Mr. Huntoon estimates that the production of the United States will remain stationary at $51,000,000, while that of Canada will rise $30,000,000. Canada's production last years was $25,294,076. In 1922 it was $26,116,050, compared with $48,849,096 for the United States; in 1921 it was $19,748,916, compared with United States production of $50,076,307.

"The annual production of Ontario," according to Mr. Huntoon, "surpassed that of any individual State in the United States. The recently developed gold fields of Ontario can be reached by Pullman car within less than twenty-four hours' ride from Toronto or Montreal."

Austro-Soviet Trade Improving Rapidly

Russia Caters To Vienna Market Because Of Availability

Washington, July 13.—The commerce Department reports that the Russian Minister in Vienna, in a recent statement, says that economic relations between the Union of the Soviet Republics and Austria are rapidly improving.

For the seven months' period ended May, 1924, according to his report, orders placed by the official Soviet trade delegation with Vienna industrials amounted to $1,200,000, $880,000 of which was placed during the period between January 1 and May 15 of this year, showing the advance of trade. Added to this sum, the value of $1,050,000 for goods ordered in Vienna during the same period by semi-official Russian organizations known ass "Ratac" and "Rusawtorg," two Austro-Russan trading firms, and a total of $2,250,000 is reached, while orders are increasing in volume with each month. These orders cover mainly Austrian agricultural machinery, milling equipment, machinery, tools, steel felts and sieves for the papermaking industry, electrical products and chemicals, together with recent orders for over 1,000,000 scythes.

Russian exports to Austria have developed equally favorably, says the Soviet Minister although the full strength was not noticeable until a few months ago. Sales of 38,000 tons of Russian grain, over 50,000 tons of petroleum, 150 tons of turpentine, and rubber overshoes were recorded in the Vienna market, and for the first time since the war large quantities of Ukranian eggs have been shipped to Vienna. In this short period those sales, alone with shipments of furs, asbestos and other raw materials, are estimated to exceed $2,500,000.

The Soviet Government is catering to the Viennese market because of its availability as a distributing point to all parts of Europe, and it is well known that Russian sales to Vienna are not merely for home consumption. The recent Vienna Fair where the Soviets exhibited their products is responsible largely for the increase in business between the two countries, in the opinion of the Soviet Minister.

That there is some truth in the statement of the envoy, is evidenced, says the American Trade Commissioner at Vienna, in figures issued by the Statistical Bureau of the Austrian Minister of Commerce and Transportation, showing Austrian imports from Russia for 1923 amounting to 2,463,000 gold crowns (4.92 gold crowns equal $1), and exports of Soviet Russia, valued at 3,650,000 gold crowns. Austrian exports consisted mainly of wool and wool products and iron and steel products; 1923 statistics covering Ukraine classified separately by the Austrian Government, and show exports there amounting to 1,127,000 gold crowns, of which sum 864,000 crowns covered iron and steel products shipments, with no imports recorded.

AFTER MALARIA
His Doctor Recommended
DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS
"My Health Improved Enormously"

Malaria sufferers do not need to be told how badly this disease runs them down. Many are left so debilitated after malarial attacks that they fear robust health and strength will never be theirs again. It is for the information and encouragement of these that Mr. J. E. Wyesinghe, book-keeper to Messrs. Walker Bros., Colombo, allows the following statement of his own personal experience to be published.

Mr. J. E. Wyesinghe.

"Whilst tea-planting at Ratnapura I fell a victim to malaria," Mr. Wyesinghe says. "I had continual attacks and was constantly under doctors' orders. Finally I left the district and returned to Colombo in the hope of getting better health there.

"The physician I consulted in Colombo, a very eminent man, advised me to try a course of sea baths and to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I found almost from the commencement the pills did me good. Then the fever left my system, my nerves which had been shattered gave me no more trouble, my general health improved enormously. I still take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills whenever I am a little run down and have found them an ideal tonic."

It is by purifying, enriching and increasing the blood stream that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for pale People build up the health, restore lost strength and energy, revitalise the nerves, eliminate the causes of indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia and anaemia. Equally good for women as for men, they are world-famous as a specific for the special ailments of the weaker sex. Your chemist sells them, or post free, $1.50 per bottle, $8.00 for 6 bottles, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Klangse Road, Shanghai.

The Shanghai Portland Cement Works, Ltd.
Manufacturers of the "ELEPHANT" Brand

Portland Cement.

The "ELEPHANT" Brand Cement is a cement of Strength and Fidelity. It is the product brought to perfection by modern machinery and expert scientific supervision. Its chemical quality, tensile and compression strength have not been excelled by any cement whether imported from Europe or manufactured in the Far East. The "ELEPHANT" Brand Cement has made a reputation and attained an eminence on the market in ten months time unattainable by another in a decade. Prove these facts yourselves from its users—the Shanghai Municipalities, Tramway Companies, Railways, Conservancy Works and other institutions and individuals. When you want a cement of quality for your construction, specify the "ELEPHANT" Brand.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Leon of Shanghai announce the engagement of their eldest daughter Marie Leon to Mr. Ch. Sim Zecha son of Mrs. Sim Keng Koen of Soekaboemi, Java. Shanghai August 12th, 1924.

The Departure Of American Minister Schurman

WHEN the appointment of Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman as American Minister to China was first announced by President Harding, certain political interests in New York raised objections on the grounds that Dr. Schurman was "pro-Japanese." Articles published in some of the New York newspapers called attention to the fact that Dr. Schurman had been a member of the so-callel "Vanderlip-Friendly-Relations" party which visited Japan during May, 1920. One correspondent in the New York American for May 11, 1921, stated that Dr. Schurman had delivered addresses in New York upon his return from Japan which indicated approval of Japanese policies in respect to imperialistic encroachments upon the Continent of Asia.

That President Harding did not consider these objections seriously was indicated by the fact that Dr. Schurman was appointed American Minister to China and his appointment was confirmed by the Senate. So much for that!

A few weeks ago stories were published in the Washington and New York newspapers stating that President Coolidge was considering the transfer of Dr. Schurman from Peking to the Ambassadorship in Tokio. Immediately several of the Japanese newspapers published inspired editorials raising objections to the appointment of Dr. Schurman as American Ambassador to Japan on the grounds that he was "anti-Japanese," and calling attention to an address which Dr. Schurman delivered before the Rotary Club in Tientsin in which the American Minister expressed approval of the recent immigration law passed by Congress which contained a clause barring Japanese laborers from Emigrating to the United States. As we remember the account of Dr. Schurman's address which appeared in the newspapers, he merely explained the history of America's long fight, extending over nearly a half century, to restrict the immigration of Oriental labor into the western states of the American Union.

Now we have a further comment on this subject in the form of a dispatch to the Tokio Asahi from its Washington correspondent stating that Japan's real objections to Dr. Schurman are based upon the American Minister's "strenuous opposition offered to the Mitsui Company's claim for monopolistic rights regarding wireless installation in China over the wireless controversy, and his other activities in China." Later other newspapers in Japan published reports to the effect that no official objections had been raised in Japan to President Coolidge's reported intentions to transfer Dr. Schurman from Peking to Tokio, but if objections really were raised they probably were based upon the so-called wireless controversy, the strongest circumstantial evidence to this effect being based upon the obvious fact that the present Government in Japan is popularly known as a "Mitsui Government," being completely under the influence of the House of Mitsui, which is involved so deeply in Chinese investments and business.

Regardless of the accuracy of the foregoing reports regarding the Ambassadorship question in Japan, it is probably correct to state that Dr. Schurman's opposition to the monopolistic Mitsui Wireless Contract on the grounds that it is a violation of the Open Door Doctrine will always be remembered as the outstanding accomplishment of his administration in Peking. Although the so-called "Wireless Controversy" is ancient history to most newspaper readers in China, it is of interest to recall some of the details in that they were more or less intimately associated with the inspiration for bringing China into the Washington Conference. On January 8, 1921, the American Federal Telegraph Company made a contract with the Ministry of Communications for the erection and joint operation of stations for wireless communication. Against this agreement Japan protested on behalf of Mitsui and Company on the grounds that they had a prior contract executed with the Navy Department during the regime of the Anfu Government which gave the Japanese interests a monopoly of all wireless communication both within China and between China and foreign countries, including the United States. Secretary Hughes, in a Note to the Chinese Government dated July 1, 1921, upheld the rights of the American Federal Telegraph Company and stated that the Japanese contract constituted a violation of the Open Door Agreement to which Japan and other nations were parties. This note of Secretary Hughes really constituted the basis for the Nine-Power Treaty dealing with the Open Door and the territorial and administrative integrity of the Chinese Republic which was negotiated at the Washington Conference.

Dr. Schurman has strenuously maintained a consistent position of opposition to Japan's contentions in respect to the wireless matter and there is no question but that the dispatches on this subject which have been exchanged between Washington and Peking and Tokio will in time constitute a land-mark in the history of American diplomacy in respect to the Orient. It is to be hoped that Dr. Schurman's departure for America will not affect the continuance of America's established position on this question for there is much more involved in it than the mere matter of the right of an American company to construct, on behalf of the Chinese Government, a number of radio stations on Chinese territory.

Dr. Schurman is now departing for the United States to be absent for the remainder of the year, and this has aroused considerable speculation all over China, both owing to the unsettled conditions of China and to the fact that a national political campaign is now in progress in the United States. In an article published in the Chinese Weekly Review for August 2, it was stated that Dr. Schurman may spend the next few months in lecturing on the China situation before the leading universities in an attempt to elucidate to the American student and professional mind some of the misunderstood problems of the China situation. If this is Dr. Schurman's intentions, he will confer a great benefit upon the American people, for undoubtedly many questions regarding the present Administration's policies in respect to China will be raised during the present political campaign. It will be remembered that Dr. Schurman performed a service somewhat like this in connection with the Balkan situation in 1912-13. Upon his retirement from the Ministership to Greece and Montenegro, he returned to America and lectured at various universities on the Balkan situation, and, in addition, published a useful volume entitled the "Balkan Wars, 1912-13," which went through three or four editions and did much to assist the American people in understanding the causes, which led up to the outbreak of the World War.

Dr. Schurman has had a most difficult job to perform in China. Although disintegration of the Central Government has been coming for several years, it was his unfortunate experience to be actually in Peking when the powers of the Central Government of the Chinese Republic actually ceased to carry weight outside of the walls of the imperial capital. There are some who have criticised Dr. Schurman for his failure to accomplish more, but when these are asked as to what further might have been done, they are at a loss for a reply, and apparently this inability to suggest constructive policies extends clear up to the State Department at Washington. There is a general feeling that the settlement of the German Reparations Problem in Europe may be followed by a renewal of interest in the China situation on the part of the Powers which participated in the Washington Conference, and if this is true, Dr. Schurman's presence in Washington will be of great service to the American Government because of his understanding at first hand of the China situation.

The Mixed Court At Shanghai

NOW that the rendition of the Mixed Court is again being discussed by the foreign Powers and the Chinese Government, and as the foreign Powers have agreed, in principle, to the rendition of Chinese civil cases only, provided the terms and conditions are mutually settled, it is believed that the present affords an opportunity whereby the question of the entire Mixed Court might well be adjusted to the satisfaction of both sides.

The Chinese Government has been promised the rendition of Chinese civil cases. But will this remedy all the evils of the Mixed Court as at present constituted? It is agreed that in so far as Chinese civil cases are concerned, a court of appeal will come into effect on rendition taking place, and this, without question, will be a decided improvement. The fact that the Chinese Press now report that the Chinese Government is agitating for the return of criminal cases as well merely indicates that the Chinese Government would desire it, but it may well be presumed that the foreign Powers will not accede to this so long as extraterritoriality remains in force. So that there will still remain the present situation with no appeal court in criminal cases unless the Diplomatic Body and the Chinese Government create such a court. The present situation of the Court in regard to (a) non bona fide foreign interest cases and (b) foreign nationality claims by Chinese must also receive its due attention.

It would, therefore, seem that any plan that would attempt to deal with all the evils of the Mixed Court as at present constituted would be much more advantageous than a plan that would merely attempt to remedy just one evil. To accomplish this, a suggestive scheme is proposed for the establishment of a Model Court details of which will be found in another part of the paper today. The author of the proposed plan has been a member of the Mixed Court Bar for the past ten years, and, therefore, writes from actual experience. The sponsor for the scheme is not laboring under the belief that his plan is perfect. On the contrary, he is quite aware of its imperfections. However, if by the publication of his proposed plan criticisms are made, or better still, a more feasible plan is proposed by an abler mind, his purpose will have been accomplished, viz., to supply constructive ideas toward a vexing problem rather than mere criticisms on the shortcomings of government in China. We would commend the scheme to the attention of those who take an interest in the question. The plan seems to be well worth consideration by the Diplomatic Body in Peking and by others who cannot affect to view the question with indifference.

Our Literary Column

EXCERPTS FROM GREAT WRITERS

By Mathy

PRECEDENT

Precedent is solidified experience. In the realm of ideas it is canned goods. It is very useful when fresh ideas are not to be had.

There are advantages in doing things just because they always have been done. You know what will happen. When you do new things you do not know what will happen.

Success implies not only sound reasoning, but also the variable factor of how a thing will work which is found out only by trying it.

Hence, the surest road to success is to use a mixture of precedent and initiative. Just how much of each you will require is a matter for your judgment.

To go entirely by precedent you become a mossback. You are safe, as a setting hen or a hiving bee is safe. Each succeeding generation acts the same way. There is a level of efficiency, but no progress.

Boards, trustees, and institutions lay great stress upon precedent, as they fear responsibility. To do as our predecessors did shifts the burden of blame a bit from our shoulders.

The precedent is the haven of refuge for them that fear to decide.

Courts of law follow precedent, on the general theory that experience is more just than individual decision.

Precedent, however, tends to carry forward the ignorance and injustice of the past.

Mankind is constantly learning, getting new views of truth, seeing new values in social justice. Precedent clogs this advance. It fixes and perpetuates the wrongs of man as much as the rights of man.

Hence, while the many must trust to precedent, a few must always endeavor to break it, to make way for juster conclusions.

Precedent is the root, independent thinking is the branch of the human tree. Our decisions must conform to the sum of human experience, yet there must be also the fresh green leaf of present intelligence.

We cannot cut the root of the tree and expect it to live, neither can we lop off all the leafage of the tree and expect it to live.

The great jurist, such as Marshall, is one who not only knows what the law is, but what the law ought to be. That is, to his knowledge of precedent he adds his vision of right under present conditions.

Precedent is often the inertia of monstrous iniquity. War, for instance, is due to the evil custom of nations who go on in the habit of war-preparedness. The problem of the twentieth century is to batter down this precedent by the blows of reason, to overturn it by an upheaval of humanity.

Evil precedent also lurks in social conditions, in business, and in all relations of human rights. The past constantly operates to enslave the present.

We must correct the errors of our fathers if we would enable our children to correct ours.

Our reverence for the past must be continually qualified by our reverence for the future.

We are on our way to the Golden Age. The momentum of what has been must be supplemented by the steam of original conviction, and guided by the intelligence and courage of the present.

REFUGEE RELIEF

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir—Herewith statement of our accounts up to date together with list of subscriptions received. During July 18,887 meals were served in the Soup Kitchen. Out of the funds given to us by the Race Club and at their request we sent 75 Cossacks to Hailar. Our accounts also show the cost of repatriating 80 refugees in June. Since then repatriation has hung fire, doubtless due in part to the propaganda going on locally and to the various articles and letters appearing in the correspondence columns of the press, which would appear to have stopped all applications for repatriation. As we cannot contemplate running the Soup Kitchen indefinitely and as there is no reason why a lot of the refugees should not make an attempt to go back to their own country it was decided at our last Committee meeting to close the Soup Kitchen at the end of September and a notice to this effect has been posted.

BOBBIE AND HIS PA

BY WM. F. KIRK

Last nite wen I caim hoam from down to the crick I had the stummick ake something feerce.

What have you been eating, Bobbie, sed Ma.

Us kids cooked a few dozzen (12) frogs legs & ate them, I sed.

No wonder yure stummick akes, sed Ma. I hoap the littel deer hasnet got Toe-Main poison, sed Ma to Pa.

No danger, sed Pa, he jest stuffed hisself, that is all.

I dident stuff myself, I sed. I cud of ate a dozzen (12) modr of them frogs legs, they was very small, I sed. Ouch, I sed, my stummick hurts terribul.

Poor little preshus, sed Ma, here is sum medisin. & Ma gived me sum medisin that tasted terribul but it stopped the pane in my stummick.

After this, Bobbie, sed Ma, you shud be cairful what you eet at these boys picknicks, sed Ma.

But frogs legs never hurted me beefoar, I sed.

Maybe you nevver ate quite so many dozzen (12) of them beefoar, sed Ma. You shud not German-dize, Bobbie. Eeet littel & chew yure food well, sed ma, if you want to live to be 90 yeers of Age, sed Ma.

Bobbie will nevver live to be a very old gent, sed Pa, he likes grub too well.

He gets that direck from his preshus papa, sed Ma. You do not hate grub with no bitter hate, do you, sed Ma.

I am cairful what I eet, sed Pa. I am not what you wud call a hevvy eeter, sed Pa.

I nevver saw anybody wich edored food moar than what you do, sed Ma. A full platter can bring the luv lite to yure eyes quicker than anything I know of, sed Ma.

How ridiklus, sed Pa.

It is the trewth, sed Ma. If Bobbie likes food, sed Ma, he is the nateral son of his father.

Yure old gent ate moar in a weak than I eet in a month, sed Pa.

My father was not what you wud call a hevvy eeter, sed Ma. He often skipped a meel altogether.

His stummick nevver knowed that, tho, sed Pa; it was nevver empty wen he skipped meels.

Jest what do you meen by that? sed Ma, kid of slow.

I wish my pairents wuddent scrap, I sed. I cum neer dying a ½ hour ago, I sed, & think how yu wud feel if I shud die with a quarl ringing in my eers, I sed.

Then Pa & Ma both laffed. I guess thay thot that was a good joak, but if you evver ate a few dozen (12) frogs legs you will know it wasnt no joak. After this I will leeve the frogs alone, thay need thare legs on thare bodys moar than I need them in my stummick.

Aids And Obstacles To Radio

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.

Just what the radio waves are doing is often a subject of more interest than what they are "saying." That they are capable of getting as "wild" as the ocean's waves themselves seems to be beyond question. Anybody who has once heard the demoniac yells, groans, squeals and rattlings that break in upon a sermon, a political speech, or a song, knows what these mystic undulations of the ether can accomplish in raising pandemonium.

The Bureau of Standards in Washington, one of the most admirable of American institutions, has lately been investigating some of the antic tendencies of the radio waves, and if it has not got us rid of the mystery, it has helped to make the situation a little clearer.

One of the persistent questions that nobody knew a good answer to, has long been: "Why do the waves fade out in the daytime and go strong at night?"

Aural region of permanent ionization impenetrable to Radio
Heaviside Surface on which waves slide
Stratosphere which absorbs daylight waves
Lower atmosphere
Earth's surface
Aids and Obstacles to Radio

The picture that a suggested answer to this question offered theoretically by the Bureau of Standards presents to the mind's eye is very striking. It shows to us, high above the earth, a "surface," whose existence is perhaps rather a mathematical than a material fact, called the Heaviside surface."

Above the lofty Heaviside surface, we are told, the atmosphere—what little remains of it—is permanently ionized, i. e., made electrically conductive through the continual presence of free ions, or traveling electric charges. It is in this part of the high atmosphere that the aurora exists, and the electrical conduction is so good electric waves cannot pass up into this region through the quasi surface (Heaviside surface) that shuts it off from the next atmospheric layer below it the Stratosphere. The Stratosphere is also called the "isothermal layer," because within it the temperature of the air no longer undergoes a regular decrease with increasing height, like that experienced in the lower atmosphere.

But, just because the radio waves are unable to penetrate the ionized region above the Heaviside surface they become more useful to us, for they "slide" along that surface, and thus are distributed to great distances horizontally, without escaping out into space. But this happy condition, which prevails at night, is interrupted in the daytime by the temporary and irregular ionization of the stratosphere, intervening between the lower air and the Heaviside surface, arrests and absorbs the waves, which thus are prevented from reaching that surface. The result is that only the waves which slide along the ground are effective in the daytime, the others being lost. But the ground-following waves also lose intensity through absorption of their energy by the earth.

Because of the variable absorption which may be introduced by the irregularities of the Heaviside surface and the adjoining regions, the waves may vary rapidly in intensity. Small irregularities would affect short waves more than long waves.

GIVE THE CHILDREN TIME TO DEVELOP BEFORE PUTTING THEM IN COMPETITION

Fathers and Mothers, there is something in life for your children besides standing at the top in their school work, something besides book knowledge and being the youngest to graduate from any course or school.

There has been a tendency to curtail school courses, to shorten the period of school life, with an idea that the sooner the child can be thrust upon the world the better chance that child will have in competition with others.

It is a fake reasoning.

Your child may be the youngest to finish a certain group of studies but extreme youth is not yet prepared to know life as it is from a practical standpoint without suffering so many surprises and perhaps shocks, even, that the mind becomes affected.

It may result in illness, nervous trouble, or it may take the form of moral perversion.

It is likely to result in weakness either mentally or physically.

There are more educated fools in the world than ever, as business men generally can tell you from contact with these prodigies.

The older plan is the better, to give the children time to develop.

White Wash Silk Blouses Are Chosen for Wear With Tailored Cloth Suit

The tailored suit worn with a blouse or shirt waist is pre-eminently a fashion that appeals to the American woman. And no one wears this particular sort of costume as well as Uncle Sam's wife. When we adopted the tailored suit early in the spring we did so with more eagerness, doubtless, because we were assured that smartly dressed French women had adopted it. It seemed "authentic"—"correct."

And now interestingly enough word comes from Paris that among smart women in France about the only ones who wear the tailored suit are the Americans. The French women have transferred their affections to the tailored frock. That is, if they wish to present a tailored exterior they wear this one-piece tailored frock, and if they wish to wear a suit it is usually the costume suit, that isn't tailored in appearance at all.

Still they admire the tailored suit, and many of the best of French tailors are still making it—but they count on their smart American customers to wear it. For some reason or other the French woman never takes a lasting fancy to the severely made suit that is worn with a simple blouse. This probably because she seldom wears it to such good advantage as the American woman.

French women, however, set the fashion for the white crepe blouse as an adjunct to the tailored suit for the brief time that they did wear it. With the costume suit there is usually a blouse made especially to wear with that suit and with no other.

Many things go to contribute to this present-day preference for the white silk crepe blouse. The passing of the custom of starching lingerie doubtless makes the batiste and swiss blouse less desirable, because less attractive, and starching went out of fashion when we began to insist on soft, clinging lines.

The strictly mannish white silk blouse is the favorite of many, but for certain women this is always difficult to wear. Fortunately the shops are now meeting the demand for more feminine but still simple silk blouses. The sketch shows one of these of white washable crepe de chine trimmed with hemstitching and a bow knot of ribbon for a tie.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

WHY CRETONNE?

Many of us use the words chintz and cretonne interchangeably. We ask to be directed to the cretonne department and when there often ask for figured chintzes, having no very good idea of the difference of the two terms.

Though there may be no hard and fast lines today as to where one sort of fabric begins and the other ends, still as the origin of the words goes there is very wide difference. Cretonne was the name of a French textile worker who first invented a sort of fabric of hemp woven with linen. It was very strong and usually white. Its great strength made it desirable for upholstering. It was later printed in all sorts of attractive designs. It was not glazed and now it is not quite accurate to speak of glazed cretonne.

But chintz was often glazed. The material was originally imported from the East Indies, and the name is derived from a word in Hindustani meaning spotted. Thus the first chintz brought to Europe was printed in bright and striking design. It was regarded as especially suitable for upholstering chairs and was usually glazed.

DID YOU KNOW—?

That a few very smart women are wearing high-heeled oxfords—even for afternoon, in place of the slipper or pump that has so long reigned supreme?

More Truth Than Poetry

BY S. E. KISER

The boys, out at the edge of town,
Have played the seventh inning;
The nation's stock is going down—
The home team isn't winning!
Loud groans are heard as Tommy Flynn
Strikes out with two on bases,
And local fights are starting in
About a dozen places.
While, unconcerned about baseball,
Ed. Marsh and Ezra Hicks
Are busy at the village hall
Discussing politics.

The Sewing Circle meets today
At Mrs. Amos Holley's;
The ladies have a lot to say
Concerning people's follies.
The way they slander Clara Hines,
Poor woman, is amazing,
And if there's anything in signs
Dot Warner's ears are blazing.
But why be worried, after all,
If Dot has misbehaved?
There's turmoil at the village hall,
The nation's being saved.

The home team struggles from the field
Defeated and dejected;
Dot Warner's record is revealed
And thoroughly dissected;
Beyond the town the sun sinks low,
The Western sky is ruddy,
And Ezra Hicks reels to and fro
With features that are bloody;
Ed. Marsh limps from the village hall,
As near dead as alive;
He lost four teeth, but, after all,
The nation may survive.

by the Judges of the Shanghai Court of Cassation, having regard to the rules of procedure now enacted in the Chinese Criminal Code of Procedure and the existing rules now in force in the International Mixed Court.

(C) SHANGHAI HIGH COURT

1. Jurisdiction. This Court shall have original jurisdiction in all civil cases where the sum or value of the property involved exceeds One Thousand Dollars, and both parties to the suit are Chinese citizens, provided that the defendant resides or has a place of business within the foreign Settlements of Shanghai, or that the cause of action arose within the Settlements, or, that the property in dispute is situated therein. This Court shall also have original jurisdiction in all criminal cases arising within the Foreign Settlements where the fine to be imposed exceeds Five Hundred Dollars and or where the sentence of imprisonment shall exceed the term of one year. This Court shall also have appellate jurisdiction to hear appeals from the Shanghai District Court and from Shanghai Police Court.

2. Appeals. Appeals shall lie from all final judgments or decrees in civil cases, and from all final judgments or sentences in criminal cases, to the Shanghai Court of Cassation.

3. Judges. The Court when sitting to hear cases of original jurisdiction, shall be composed of one Chinese Judge and one Foreign Judge. When sitting to hear appeals, the Court shall be composed of two Chinese Judges and on Foreign Judge. A Chinese Judge of this Court shall be appointed by the Chinese Government in accordance with the "Law of Organisation of the Judiciary" and shall possess the same qualifications as are therein provided for Judges of High Courts. A Foreign Judge of this Court shall be appointed by the Chinese Government and shall possess as qualifications therefor, a legal training in the law of his own country as well as a knowledge of the Chinese language, laws and customs.

4. Procedure. Rules of procedure for this Court shall be made by the Judges of the Shanghai Court of Cassation, having regard to the rules of procedure as enacted in the Chinese Civil Code of Procedure.

(D) SHANGHAI COURT OF CASSATION

1. Jurisdiction. This Court shall have appellate jurisdiction only, to hear appeals from the Shanghai High Court.

2. Appeals. No appeal shall lie from a decision of this Court without permission first having been obtained, whereupon the appeal shall be to the Supreme Court (Ta Li Yuan) at Peking.

3. Judges: This Court shall be ordinarily composed of three Judges and, upon occasions hereinafter mentioned, of five Judges, when it shall be known as the Full Court. When composed of three Judges, two of them shall be Chinese Judges and one, Foreign. When composed of five Judges, (full court) three of them shall be Chinese and two, Foreign. The Chinese Judges of this Court shall be appointed by the Chinese Government in accordance with the "Law of Organisation of the Judiciary" and shall possess the same qualifications as are provided therein for Judges of the Court of Cassation. The Foreign Judges of this Court shall be appointed by the Chinese Government and shall possess as qualifications therefor, a legal training in the law of their own country, and a knowledge of the Chinese language, laws and customs.

4. Procedure. The rules of Procedure of this Court shall be made by Judges thereof having regard to the rules now enacted in the Chinese Civil Code of Procedure. The President of this Court shall determine when the Court shall sit as a Court of three or as a full Court to hear appeals.

FOREIGN INTEREST CASES

When a case involving foreign interests arises, the assessor of the foreign national who is assigned by the Consul concerned, shall sit with the Court as constituted herein. A majority decision of the Court shall prevail. Where a case is before the Shanghai District Court and the Assessor and the Judge disagree, the case shall be retried before the Shanghai High Court.

Registrars. There will be one Chief Registrar, of foreign nationality, to be appointed by the Chinese Government whose qualifications therefor shall be, having a knowledge of the Chinese language and, either (a) having had previous experience or (b) legal training in the law of his own country. The Chief Registrar shall also act as Disbursing Officer and shall be under bond to the Chinese Government to faithfully perform the duties of his office. As many Chinese registrars as may be found necessary will be appointed to to assist the Chief Registrar, and shall be under the control and management of the said Chief Registrar. Yoshizawa Tells Of Soviet Parley

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, August 11.—Interviewed today by press representatives, Mr. Yoshizawa, Japanese Minister, stated in part:—

"The five meetings I held with M. Karakhan, Soviet Envoy, since my return here from Japan have enabled us to exchange views about all problems pending between Japan and Soviet Russia. It may be said that as a result of the meetings above mentioned the delegates of the two countries have arrived at an agreement in opinion more than they did before my recent return to Tokio.

"The next parley will be held at such an opportune moment in future as the two parties concerned consider expedient. Whether or not the present Russo-Japanese conference will be crowned with success cannot be predicted until after an agreement has been reached on all pending problems."

Kuling Is Crowded With Summer Guests

(China Press Correspondence)

Kuling, August 7.—Kuling is now crowded with renters and visitors so the forthcoming census will reveal some interesting facts. For four weeks the weather has been ideal for a mountain resort, every day except two having been bright and fine for outings and sports.

The season is now drawing toward the end and the tennis tournaments are beginning. There is much interest if one may judge by the number of entries.

The sacred concerts this season will come on August 18 and 19. There are fifty in the chorus and they are to sing Spohr's Last Judgment, with Mr. Curtis as conductor.

It is authoritatively stated that there is some cholera in Kiukiang and as the floods subside it is feared that it will spread.

Doug And Mary Go Home From Europe; Not Coming East

Movie Favorites Return To America After Tour Of Continent

Shanghai movie fans who have been hearing rumors for the past two months of the imminent arrival here of Douglas Fairbanks and Mrs. Douglas, otherwise Mary Pickford, will be disappointed to learn that the Fairbanks entourage, after four months in Europe, has returned to America. The European trip included visits to practically all the old—world capitals and it was supposed that the movie stars would visit the Orient after their trip through Russia, possibly travelling here over the Trans-Siberian Railway.

Their return to America may not mean the complete abandonment of their Oriental tour, but it will certainly delay it for some time.
